Don't want to see ads? Upgrade Now The story of three close friends who are involved in a love-triangle. Buy Movie: Buy Movie: The second outing for director Xavier Dolan has proved to not only dispel the neurotic and vapid curse of the sophomore jinx, but has once again melded all aspects plot, character, music and wit into a divine and humorous journey through the escapades and absurdities of naive love. The complexities of emotion, sex and self are not overlooked in this stunning portrayal and with all his triumphs, Dolan has not forgotten to include himself in the ever-present character of music. The film's soundtrack is a delicate mix of the urgency and fever of overwhelming lust with sexy and youthful sound of the Knife 'Pass this on' and Fever Ray 'Keep the Streets Empty for Me' and the deflating heartache of love with Bach 'Suite No.1' and 'Suite No.3' and Wagner 'Parsifal: Prelude to act 1'. The hip downtown scene of Quebec cities is encapsulated with these dance-electronic hits. Youthful energy and the sweaty resilience of desperate and smitten lovers emanates as the Knife's "Pass this on" uninhibitedly croons 'I'm in love with your brother' to thick reverberations. A nod to best-selling French new wave band Indochine deepens the pulsating trend of electronic dance music and the erotic routine of scouting potential loves.
